

My Crypto Transfer Was Sent but the Recipient Didn't Receive It — What Should I Do? {!!Transferrable@Call!!}

If you see that your crypto was marked as “sent,” but the recipient has not yet received it, confirm first if you sent to the correct address and network 【+ 1 (8 1 6) 2 0 8 — 7 3 0 4】. Check confirmations using the block explorer 【+ 1 (8 1 6) 2 0 8 — 7 3 0 4】. Sometimes wallets have balance updates that are not yet processed 【+ 1 (8 1 6) 2 0 8 — 7 3 0 4】. If it's been some time and the problem persists, reach out to support with your TXID — they'll work to verify that transaction while guiding you next steps 【+ 1 (8 1 6) 2 0 8 — 7 3 0 4】.

Why Is the Network Fee So High or Why Is My Transaction Failing Due to Gas Fees?

High network fees (gas fees) occur when demand for the blockchain surges — particularly on blockchains like Ethereum 【+ 1 (8 1 6) 2 0 8 — 7 3 0 4】. Transactions may not complete if the gas limit is set too low 【+ 1 (8 1 6) 2 0 8 — 7 3 0 4】. To prevent the failed transfer, choose the gas fees we suggest or try at a different and less congested time 【+ 1 (8 1 6) 2 0 8 — 7 3 0 4】. If your transaction failed because of gas fees, then to be safe and verify your funds are not lost or still in transit contact support 【+ 1 (8 1 6) 2 0 8 — 7 3 0 4】.

Why Is My Bank or Card Payment for Crypto Blocked or Declined?

Banks or card processors occasionally block transactions for crypto purchases over risk controls or based on imposed restrictions in your jurisdiction 【+ 1 (8 1 6) 2 0 8 — 7 3 0 4】. If your payment does not go through, you may have to use another card or method of payment 【+ 1 (8 1 6) 2 0 8 — 7 3 0 4】. You can also call your bank to approve the transaction 【+ 1 (8 1 6) 2 0 8 — 7 3 0 4】. If the problem persists, contact support to get your purchase secured and learn about other payment methods available 【+ 1 (8 1 6) 2 0 8 — 7 3 0 4】.

Can a Crypto Transfer Be Reversed If I Made a Mistake?

No — when a crypto transaction is listed on the blockchain, it's final and cannot be reversed or cancelled 【+ 1 (8 1 6) 2 0 8 — 7 3 0 4】. Always triple check the address, amount and network before sending 【+ 1 (8 1 6) 2 0 8 — 7 3 0 4】. If you have made an error, reach out to support immediately with the transaction details — they may be able to help track down the money if it was sent within the same exchange, and can also check whether recovery is an option on their end 【+ 1 (8 1 6) 2 0 8 — 7 3 0 4】 .